

Card Counting is Easy to Learn and Can be Effective While Playing Live Online BlackJack

The very first thing that you must understand is that card counting will not help you to make money at a casino. Card counting is a very good strategy to use when playing live online blackjack, or even blackjack in a land based casino. In fact, it is a technique used only with with live online blackjack than with any other casino game. However, if you are going to implement card counting when playing live online blackjack, you have to understand that while it is not illegal to count cards, it is frowned on to do so in a land based casino. You must only count cards when you are not playing for real money. Now online casinos shuffle the decks frequently to nullify the advantages you get from counting cards online.

There are a few tricks that you need to master in order to count cards and to make it more effective for you when playing live online blackjack. The first tricks is to practice by yourself first before applying it to a real casino game of live online blackjack. As our mentors always tell us, practice makes perfect. Once you have gotten card counting well, it is easier for you to do it no matter how fast the cards are being dealt on the table. It's not important how many distractions that you have in front of you while playing a hand of blackjack, it will be hard for you to actually lose count once you have mastered how to do it .

Learning how to focus is the second tip you need to learn when counting your cards in a game of live online blackjack. As you know, there are so many possible that can take your attention away from your game, whether you are playing from your mobile device or playing at a land based casino. Despite these distractions, you will need to know how to keep counting your cards regardless of the situation.

You must not be too engaged as to ignore what is happening around you, especially if you are playing at a land based casino rather than at a online casino. That would be bad because the live dealer would know right away that you are counting cards. As soon as knows that, she will try her best to counteract your counting by making random shuffles of the decks in the shoe. When she starts doing that, your card counting will stop being effective for you.

Therefore, the third tip you need to learn when counting cards is subtlety. Be aware of what is happening around you even when you are attempting to keep the count . Another thing you could do to dissimulate that you are counting cards is to keep the difference in your bets small. The betting spread refers to the pattern you make with your betting and the differences between each bet based on your odds. When you are waiting the value of the card to be low, you will wager only the absolute minimum, and you would raise it when you are waiting a high-value card. Keep the increments of your wagers low so the dealer would not spot you at your new found card counting.

Make sure you know how to manage your bankroll when card counting in live online blackjack. It is so tempting to waste all your money away at one round when you think you know that you will win.
