A cheating spouse? Can this happen to you? Probably not. Want to make sure? Check out your spouse chats and online conversations with KGB Spy! What are your employees doing when you're not looking? Working hard or hardly working? Ensure quality service in your absence with KGB Spy! KGB Spy logs and monitors all activities on the computer where it is installed. Sounds simple? Try installing a competing product, and see if you can read through the raw log files! KGB Spy not only records the activities, but does it in a way that's clear for you to understand. All conversations are sorted and time-stamped to allow you to see who said what and when. KGB Spy recognizes popular instant messengers such as Yahoo! Messenger, MSN Messenger and AIM, captures chats typed in these messengers and provides clearly legible chat logs.

Protecting your kids is not easy, and they don't make it any simpler. If they know they're being watched, they'll try to circumvent the system by attempting (and failing) to uninstall KGB Spy, trying to disable it or modify its settings. They won't succeed in that thanks to the built-in protection featured in KGB Spy, but why let them know at all? KGB Spy can run silently and completely hidden from bare eye. In fact, it'll stay hidden even at close examination! KGB Spy window will not appear in the list of active windows, and its process won't show in the Task Manager. It can't be uninstalled or disabled without your master password!

Want to catch a cheating spouse? Couldn't be easier! Install KGB Spy and configure it to capture instant messengers, no matter if AOL, MSN or Yahoo messengers are installed. Unlike competitors, KGB Spy will not only capture mouse and keyboard, but will actually keep a log on who talked with whom, who said what and when. A configurable stop-word alert allows you seeing immediately if any of the pre-defined keywords was typed. In fact, why seeing it later when you can know it right away? KGB Spy will send you an email alert immediately if a keyword from your list is typed! Working hard to improve employee productivity? Monitor your employees' activities with logs and periodic screens shots to show them proof. Install KGB Spy on all computers in your office in a matter of minutes. Don't waste your money on expensive surveillance equipment! KGB Spy can do just the same but better! No special training and no advanced skills are required to operate KGB Spy.
