Venetian blinds are a great way to decorate any window. Unlike curtains and drapes, Venetian blinds are ideal for home owners that do not want to invest in expensive curtains and drapes, and prefer window decorations that are easy to maintain. Although, Venetian blinds were originally made from wood, new age Venetian blinds are constructed from materials like aluminium and are far more durable when compared to traditional Blinds.

Advantages of Venetian blinds over drapes and curtains

The first advantage of Venetian blinds over drapes and curtains is that Venetian blinds are far more cost effective. Quality curtains can cost nearly 3 or 4 times more than a Venetian blind, and there are also repeat costs like dry cleaning involved. Venetian blinds are usually made from materials like Aluminium, and involve only a one time investment in terms of expenditure. In fact, wooden Venetian blinds are usually a little more expensive than aluminium blinds and new Venetian blinds are made from aluminium, but come in wooden finishes and are designed to compliment almost any modern décor.

Apart from being cost effective, Venetian blinds are also more durable and are ideal for bathrooms and kitchens. Plastic curtains lose their look and finish after some time, but Venetian blinds are made from aluminium and are far more resistant to steam, water and oil deposits. Venetian blinds have been used in kitchens and bathrooms because of their durability for a long time now and contrary to popular belief, Venetian blinds are available in variable dimensions and popular slat sizes are 15mm, 25mm, 35mm and 50mm.

Unlike curtains, Venetian blinds can be used to regulate the amount of light entering a room with greater precision. This feature is especially useful in kitchens where certain tasks require natural daylight and the amount of daylight entering a room can be regulated easily via Venetian blinds. Venetian blinds also have the added advantage of being available in a variety of colours. Compared to traditional Venetian blinds, aluminium Venetian blinds are available in hundreds of colours and patterns.

Apart from being durable and cost effective, Venetian blinds are extremely easy to clean. Curtains and blinds usually require dry cleaning, whereas aluminium Venetian blinds can be cleaned using a dry cloth or using a household solvent like alcohol. The ease with which Venetian blinds can be cleaned has greatly added to their appeal and people all over the world are finding Venetian blinds far more convenient than curtains and drapes. When it comes to matching the décor of a room, wooden Venetian blinds are usually the ideal option. Contrary to popular belief, aluminium Venetian blinds are available in a variety of finishes and are designed to imitate the look of different types of wood.
