

Teen Driver Education

Are there really so much bad incidents on the roads? One of the radio channel commentator commented that that two-thirds of all driving incidents in the USA were caused by rough driving and road rage. Motor vehicle crashes are the leading cause of death for U.S. teens, accounting for 36% of all deaths in this age group. The risk of motor vehicle crashes is higher among 16- to 19-year-olds than among any other age group. In fact, per mile driven, teen drivers ages 16 to 19 are four times more likely than older drivers to crash. These things happened only for irresponsible driving and lack of awareness. For reducing these incidents good driving training is highly necessary. a trained and responsible driver hardly cause any accident. By driving safely you can save your life as well as others. So our online driving training is one of the medium to help the untrained driver to be a responsible and good driver.
