

What Does the Life of Your Dreams Look Like? What's Your Plan to Get There?

I'm not talking about selling your soul to the devil, working 80 hours a week to be successful. I'm talking about working smarter, having more free time to enjoy the lifestyle your increased income affords you. I'm talking about tried-and-true strategies that will have you sitting on the beach under an umbrella (my personal favorite), living the life of your dreams, in the shortest time possible. You can create a life of financial independence.

I have a feeling you may be a lot like me. You've joined mentoring programs to learn how to think like a millionaire. You've enrolled in protégé programs to learn specific skills. You've gone to conferences, workshops and seminars. You've spent your time and money going to the ends of the earth in search of the entrepreneurial Holy Grail. But you're still looking for the other pieces to the success puzzle, aren't you?

Why? Well, there are two reasons.

Because each thing you've invested in is just a single piece of the puzzle, not a complete business system that will take you from discovering your passion and expertise all the way through creating a successful business from it and then protecting what you've built.

Most people never follow through on their dreams because all they get is a fluffy, fuzzy picture of a dream! What's missing is a plan for creating a compelling vision for your life. One that burns so strong and so vividly realistic in your mind that you are driven to achieve it —no matter what. You must have a road map to your vision broken down into easy-to-manage steps or you will never make your dream a reality.

Have you ever wondered what is keeping you from moving forward on your ideas? We all have self-limiting beliefs that in the past have prevented us from creating the life of our dreams. Once you uncover these beliefs, you can now replace them with empowering beliefs about your right to be wealthy. You don't have to have a Rolodex full of wealthy or influential friends.

When I first started, my network consisted of less than 10 people on my personal email list — none of which knew anything about what I was trying to do either! Now through the strategies and techniques our expert faculty will teach you, you could easily have access to tens or hundreds of thousands of people through the power of your network.

By following the process outlined at the Women's Business Empowerment Summit to create your dream team, you'll surround yourself with all the expertise you need to get where you want to go.
