

What types of Limousine you can hire

Limousines are slowly becoming one of life's necessities. Not that you need to own one. It's just that there are several events in one's life that require the use of a limousines and not just any other type of car for that matter. Weddings, proms, special events, and even funerals call for these vehicles. Limousines come in varied shapes and form these days. Stretch limousines are currently the most popular one. There are quite a few different types of Limousines available for rental service. Each limousine hire company has their own specific fleet of limousines. But the limousines listed below are the most common and will give you an idea of what to look for.

Lincoln Navigator Limousine

This limo is one of the finest limousines in the market. It is limousine with style, class and elegance. The Lincoln Navigator Limousine has always been well identified for its clean, smooth lines, brute power and its unconditional adaptability. This unique limousine is in huge demand for all occasions. Conversely, it's most distinguished triumph lies in its passenger safety record. The Lincoln Navigator Limousine has a luxury interior as you would expect, with real working carriage/interior lights. With safety at its foundation, plus the addition of luxury interiors, the vehicles magnificent styling, and the abundant power sitting beneath the hood, these essentials merge to form it an incredible SUV for the limousine market. This brilliant limousine has proven to be a real head-turner.

Hummer Limousine

Stretch limousines may accommodate up to 12 passengers. But Hummer limousines can take on twice as many as that. If you need to transport at 24 passengers in style and in luxury, there's no other way to go than to hire a Hummer limousine. If you get this vehicle, then you're sure that everybody will fit comfortably aboard. Stretch limousines are only good for city driving. When it comes to driving out of town or on the more rugged areas of the countryside, the Hummer limousine is your best possible option. It can certainly take you anywhere you might want to go. Stretch limousines usually exude a strict and formal setup among passengers. However, things are lighter inside a Hummer limousine – especially if you get the one that has lighted dance floors for a facility! Hummer limousines are the perfect vehicles that will definitely make heads turn and would remind people of your much-celebrated entry.

Cadillac Escalade Limousine

Renting stretch Escalade limousine says you got style! The Cadillac Escalade Limousine is one of the newest additions to the model line-up, offers the maximum seating capacity in a beautifully appointed interior featuring all the latest amenities. This super-stretch limousine features multiple color LCD TVs, avonite-topped bars with aluminum trim, stainless-steel starlight headliner, luxurious two-tone seating and a hi-end sound system as standard equipment.

Chrysler 300 Limousine

The Chrysler 300s have always been at the top of their class with regards to style, luxury and presence, however, just imagine how much more imposing and eye catching a 300 would be if it were stretched to a limousine. While the larger stretch limousines often lose something of their class and style when they are stretched to three times their size, the long wheelbase Chrysler manages to exude the style and grace of its luxurious limousine cousins, while still providing ample passenger room. The Chrysler 300 looks just like an ordinary sedan in length, however it is actually six inches longer than the standard 300, providing an extra ten cubic feet of interior space, 46 inches of which is for passenger leg room. So while limousines are often hired to make an impression and a head-turning entrance, you may still want to feel like a 1950s movie star arriving at a premiere and that feeling can be lost when you step from one of the larger SUV limousines.

These are the things that make limousines a cut above the rest. Don't settle for any other ride. Choose a grand limousine hire vehicle and ride in a style. And you are sure to experience all the advantages listed above, and a whole lot more!
