

PetPerks Visa Credit Card Makes Your Pet Happier

Thousands of people worldwide enjoy having pets as a part of their household, because pets provide unique advantages to people. Pets are supposed to be a good company for many single people and seniors. They are always ready to prove their devotion. So we should treat our pets the way they deserve and be animal-friendly.

You don't get irritated when you hear cats purring, dogs barking and birds chirping? Do you adore your pets and care about wildlife? Now pet-lovers have a new way to show off their pets and earn pet related rewards. If you are one of them you have a wonderful opportunity to apply for a PetRewards Platinum Plus Visa Credit Card. You may already have a credit card, but if you don't, you can be sure there will be many opportunities for you and your little friend.

Having this reward card from Bank of America is a good way to show devotion and care about pets. This special offer is for those who have very good credit and would like to earn points toward pet-related rewards. If you are enthusiastic about your pet and would like to demonstrate your loyalty, apply for this credit card.

In fact, we are used to our little friends and doing our best to be always nearby. The PetPerks Visa card is one of the ways to make friendship even stronger.

It is a well-known fact that Visa credit cards have always been popular among customers as they offer a lot of beneficial and interesting rewards programs.

The PetPerks Visa Card is not an exception. It offers some incentives and features a special program of rewards. Moreover, it allows you not only to earn points and redeem them for veterinary clinics, pet food retailers, farm and feed stores, and shelter donations, but also have various travel and emergency assistance services, rental insurance, and purchase replacement. Other PetPerks card benefits make you eligible for amazing birthday offers and discounts for your pets.

The PetPerks credit card has no annual fee. What is more, there is a 0% introductory rate on purchases, balance transfers, and cash advance checks for the first six billing cycles. The interest rate for purchases and balance transfers is reasonably low.

Your first purchase will not be left without a notice as you will be earning your points for buying pet food and pet supplies at PetSmart and Banfield.

All credit card applicants can put their favorite pet's picture on their card or just choose from one of three adorable designs. So you will always have your favorite pet picture at hand. As a matter of fact, the first photo is free and can be placed on any eligible Bank of America credit account.

The PetRewards Platinum Plus Visa Credit Card is an essential tool and being used more and more each day. There is no doubt that pet-lovers and their animal friends will appreciate the value of this card because some deals are cheaper if you are paying with the PetPerks credit card.

About the Author

Rosa Jackson is a credit card expert. She is known for her recent articles about zero interest balance transfer.

Source: <http://www.tntarticles.com>