

Becoming An Author Allowed Him To Quit His Sales Job And Live His Dream

Frank Gasiorowski was able to leave his job and run his home-based business full time because he discovered the power of writing his own book and using it to generate leads for his coaching business. But when he first came to me for mentoring, he did not believe he could author a book. His creative writing teacher in high school told him that he would never be a writer, and for 35 years he believed her.

Gasiorowski invested in a proven system that teaches would-be authors how to write a money-making book in 12 hours of actual writing time and use it as a lead generator for a thriving business.

My Entrepreneurial Authoring Program and individual business mentoring teach clients how to create a book that is an entrepreneurially sound lead generator for a well-structured business. A book that is entrepreneurially sound naturally leads readers to interact with the author and continue to do business again and again.

Even though Gasiorowski began to overcome this dream-stealing message, he thought he had no time to write. Without the Entrepreneurial Authoring system, he would not, but with it, he wrote his book at rest stops along the I-95 corridor in five-to-ten minute bursts, in less than 12 hours of writing time because he learned how to work from a detailed table of contents that makes it easy to create a book.

Gasiorowski, known as Mr. 90 Day Goals, wrote his book in 28 days. Because he wrote a book, he was able to leave his job. Today he has his own radio and television shows and is an internationally renowned speaker and author.

About the Author

"What If You Could Author A Best Seller in Less Than 12 Hours of Actual Writing and Gain Instant Access To A New York Publisher Without An Agent and Formal Book Proposal?" How? By Following This Simple, Proven System for Authoring Success. <http://www.AuthorandGrowRich.com>

Source: <http://www.tntarticles.com>