

Choose to Live in North York

Sick of the polluted downtown core in Toronto? It's time you took advantage of the urban sprawl and headed beyond the skyscrapers and bumper to bumper traffic. Leave the concrete jungle for something quieter, but still within the boundaries of the city. Go north.

Just over the 401 is the quainter part of Toronto, North York. Previously a city of its own, North York has now become part of the Greater Toronto area. However, the amalgamation hasn't taken away from the charm of the area. Rather, it has added to it. North York offers all of the convenience of city living, minus the headache. Served by two great subway lines as well as the 401, every distinct neighbourhood in North York is easily accessible by its residents and visitors.

The heart of North York, with the bustling intersection of Yonge and Sheppard at its epicentre, is a diverse combination of shops, restaurants, and attractions that serve not only the many offices that are located in the area, but also the growing number of local residents. Population density is rapidly rising, and condominium as well as townhome developments are struggling to meet the demand. New condos, like Savvy Condominiums at Cosmo, Spring @ Minto Gardens, and Emerald Park are being developed at Yonge and Sheppard. And because of the number of condos, each offers a variety of amenities and finishes to present their property as attractively to buyers as possible - which makes North York one of the best places in the GTA to buy a condo. Many condos even offer the convenience of direct access to the subway and stores/services such as banks, grocery stores and restaurants!

If you're looking to buy a condo, think beyond the box. Explore the endless possibilities in North York.
